

Kelly Montilla:

With over 10 years in the plastic industry, Kelly Montilla is a Development and Technical Support Engineer at Milliken, specializing in clarifiers and nucleators for polyolefins and colorants for various polymers. She collaborates closely with resin producers, converters, and brand owners in the U.S. and Latin America, adding significant value to products with a strong focus on sustainability.