

- Title of presentation:

- Painting a Brighter Future: Collaborating for a Circular Plastics Economy

- Brief description of the deliverables:

- The Alliance to End Plastic Waste (AEPW) is the world's largest plastics circularity organization whose focus is to minimize plastic waste leakage into the environment and tackle key challenges in circularity. This path is not linear as there is a critical need for full collaboration across the value-chain in unlocking new ways/solutions to address several gaps in circularity ranging from design & collection, to sorting, recycling, and quality of recyclates. Since their inception in 2019, The Alliance (AEPW) has demonstrated a significant impact by funding over 70 projects across 30 countries and today seek to drive systems-level changes on both infrastructure and technology/innovation fronts under their new model of catalytic capital & partnerships with DFIs and government entities.
