

Abstract

Through Positive Plastics Education™ programs, the SPE Foundation has developed outreach to inspire confidence in students so they can become the scientists and engineers who will drive the plastics industry forward through innovation and sustainable practices. With their generous support, the SPE Color and Appearance Division has played a big part in our success. Learn about the PlastiVan® program and other initiatives and how our programs can help you accomplish your marketing, social responsibility, and community engagement goals.