

Abstract: Color, Material and Finish Insights for 2028

Mercedes Landazuri, Ampacet

As industries navigate accelerating environmental, technological, and cultural shifts, Color, Material, and Finish (CMF) design is emerging as a critical strategic lever for innovation in plastics and product development. This presentation explores the key CMF directions shaping 2028, with a focus on how material choices and surface expression can deliver both performance and meaning in a rapidly evolving landscape.
